Newsletter w/e 15th March 2024

Mrs Truslove writes

Well done to the Blue Class for their assembly on rivers this week. They did a great job and we all learnt a lot. Next Friday it is the turn of Red Class with their dinosaur assembly – everyone is welcome to join us at 9:00am in the school hall.

Thank you to everyone who Did Something Funny for Money for Red Nose Day today – we have raised £120 for this good cause.

We are sometimes made aware of issues with children involved in inappropriate phone or internet behaviour including hateful language. With this in mind, we will soon be sending a monthly online newsletter, which will have the latest information around keeping your children safe and promoting responsible behaviour. This will reinforce what we teach in school and will support parents by offering information and useful links. We hope that you will find this a useful resource.

Mrs Banks/Mrs Truslove – Red class

TAs Mrs Messinger and Ms Nortemo

Phonics

Reception have been reading words with two or more digraphs such as, sharp, march, torch and shower.

Year One have continued to 'grow the code', exploring alternative spelling patterns such as le and al making the l sound (eg apple/ metal), s making the c sound (eg ice) and ve making the v sound (eg give). They have also learnt the tricky words school, call and different.

Maths

Reception have been comparing numbers to 10 and 20 and identifying the largest and smallest set. They have then matched the set to the correct numeral. They have also been ordering numbers to 10/20 using a pegged number line, identifying the larger and smaller of two numbers using the number line as a guide. Following on from this they used a number line to help them find one more and one less than a number and write the addition and subtraction sentences to match.

Year One's focus has been on units of time such as weeks, days, hours and minutes. They have developed an understanding of how long a minute, hour, day and week are. They have been reading and writing times to the hour and half hour on an analogue and digital clock.

Drawing Club- We have focussed on the story The Dinosaur Department Store! The children have explored the characters (the department store manager), setting (the city) and used their imaginations to change the story such as, the dinosaurs are all over the city and how can we get them all back to safety? We have explored new vocabulary relating to the story such as, whipping, magnificent, squawk, imprisoned, armoured, smirked, furious and release. We added actions to help us remember them!

Thank you for practising the class assembly lines at home; please continue to do so as they are still a little unsure at times. Remember to practise using a loud voice too! Thank you.

Mrs Gibbins – Green class
